

Central Park, Manhattan

Niagra Reservation, Niagra Falls

Prospect Park, Brooklyn

Stanford University, Stanford

Emerald Necklace, Boston

Frederick Law Olmsted

ERLA pays tribute to Frederick Law Olmsted, who is “popularly considered to be the father of American landscape architecture”. Born in Hartford, Connecticut on April 22, 1822, Mr. Olmsted’s legacy is the profession of landscape architecture and he is famous for co-designing many well-known urban parks with his partner, Calvert Vaux, notably Central Park and Prospect Park in New York City.